Network Latin America 2008 to be held in Aruba Aruba Airport Authority N.V. proudly hosting the event – a first in the Caribbean region

Aruba Airport Authority N.V. has been granted the honor to host Network Latin America 2008 in Aruba, December 7 – 9, 2008. Reed Business Information has made the official announcement today and submitted a press release to the international press and industry partners. Network Latin America is a specific air service event that brings together airports and airlines not only from the Central, South America and the Caribbean but also those airlines with an interest in the region from North America and Europe. Attendees will mostly be airline planners whom are key within the route development process.

Hosting this most sought after event is a unique opportunity to showcase the destination Aruba. With major renovations on island, the extensive renovations and upgrading of the airport and the competitiveness in the region, the timing on the hosting of this event is perfect. There is hardly a better way to meet with our airline partners and potential partners then having them come down to Aruba.

The organization behind Network, Reed Business Information based in the UK, publishers of Airline Business Magazine, is a very dynamic organization and a dedicated group of professionals determined to deliver a quality event and have been very successful throughout the years. Network Latin America is a regional event launched in 2007 based upon the successful annual Network USA event held since 2001. The organizers expect airline, airport and related air service delegates to reach a total of 200. The event will be organized on island by Aruba Airport Authority N.V. in partnership with the Aruba Tourism Authority and the Aruba Hotel and Tourism Association; who have all expressed their delight at Aruba hosting such an important event.

“There is hardly a better way to kick off a brand new year with the landing of such an important industry event” a very pleased Peter Steinmetz said. “Our industry partners will have an opportunity to experience what makes Aruba and our airport unique. We are confident that this event will secure our leading position in the region and are happy with the co-operation of ATA and AHATA regarding this exciting opportunity”.
